I am 54 years young and have enjoyed owning several Daisy BB guns over the years. I think I have a fun Model 25 story to share.

A few years ago I found what I believe to be a 1960's vintage Model 25 in an antique store in Northwood, New Hampshire, only to discover that the trigger spring was broken or dislodged. Believing that I could repair it I made the purchase for $35.00. I searched on the internet and found a fellow in Florida that collected old Daisy BB guns, and had parts to repair the Model 25.

I shipped the receiver portion of the gun to him to repair, and he said it would cost $15.00. Shortly after I sent him the receiver, a hurricane went through that area of the state, and I wondered if I would ever see my Model 25 receiver again. As luck would have it, he received it safe and sound, and in less than 2 weeks, I had the repaired receiver back and could reassemble my Model 25. I sure was happy! The gun works great and is a lot of fun to shoot after all it has been through.
