

Frank N. from Lincoln City, Oregon

This weekend my nephew, Quin, visited our family on the Oregon Coast. He's 9 1/2 from Seattle and has been interested in a BB gun for a couple of years. I raised my three sons at the farm and I remembered their enthusiasm the first time they shot the gun. I looked in my gun closet and found a Daisy Model No. 25 that has been on the farm for many years and used by my many kids and their friends. I took it out, polished it up, put oil in to regenerate the leathers and showed Quin. I bought him a camo cap and some new BBs and we were set! I showed him how to shoot the gun, set up a tin can for a target and it worked perfectly. The first ping that hit that can put a smile on Quin's face that was priceless. Quin will be 10 years old on 12/13/10 and he would be thrilled with a brand new gun of his own. I would like to get an indoor BB rifle club started for kids in my old dairy barn.
